

The Conquest Trilogy Part III

Chapter 1

A blockade of ships at sea fire cannons at their enemies. One large flagship gets shot a few times and the bridge on the inside is being destroyed. Crewmen on the bridge try to put out the fire and they go to their computer terminals entering in commands to slow down the damage. The captain of the ship said, "How much time do we have?" A crew member at a computer terminal said, "We have two minutes until total hull failure." The captain presses a button on his watch and he said, "John, what is your status in your attack against Deathinator's flagship?" John is in a small attack boat and Anthony is in an attack boat on John's left and Drex is in an attack-boat on John's right. John said, "We are engaging on the enemy. We are a few short notches away from the hull of the Deathinator's ship. I will be making contact shortly." The captain said, "Well do that end..." He turns around and he sees a missile flies into the bridge and destroys the bridge and the flagship sinks into the sea. John said, "That doesn't sound good."

Two small attack-boats with Leglas soldiers in them go near John and one of the soldiers said, "I will provide you with cover." John drives his boat up to the hull of Deathinator's ship and John gets out of his boat and he takes out his light-sword and he cuts a hole in the hull. Anthony and Drex stay close to him. Enemy soldiers see what is happening and the defense Leglas soldier stands up and he takes out a machine gun and he rapidly guns down all the Deathinator's robots that come after John. John cuts a large enough hole and he jumps in and Anthony and Drex jump in too followed by a platoon of Leglas soldiers. They enter and the Deathinator's bots surround the heroes. They hold out their guns and the robot in the front said, "Drop your weapons, Leglas, scum!" John takes out his light-sword again and he uses it to cut the robot and Anthony and Drex take out their light-swords and they do the same. They cut up all the soldiers and they see they are covered in purple goo. Anthony takes a look at the robots and he said, "Why are they covered in purple goo?" John said, "If you remember, the Maloians don't support the Deathinator anymore so the Deathinator had to create his own army of troops. It looks like he made them out of purple goo."

The heroes walk down the hallway and a cannon ball breaks through a wall and it almost singes Anthony. There is a gap in the floor. John looks at it and he said, "The gap is too far to jump. We need to take another path." John sees a door and he opens it and it is hot and steamy. Anthony said, "It's steamy in here." Drex said, "This is supposed to be a steam room you idiot." Drex points to a sign that says, "Steam room." They see the Deathinator robots are taking warm baths and they see the heroes. The heroes take out their swords and they fight off the troops. They see an elevator. Drex said, "You know what can go wrong with elevators." John looks around the room and he said, "It looks like we don't have any other choices unless you can think of a better idea.” Anthony presses the elevator button and they get in. They ride the elevator to the top and sappy elevator music plays. They arrive at the top floor. They see a large office with a large seat in front of a large window that gives a view of the entire battle going on outside. The seat turns around and the Deathinator is in it. Drex takes out his light-sword and he said, “Deathinator, you're going to pay for all the things you've done to the kingdoms of Leglas and Maloxia!” The Deathinator said, “Don't be too hasty. I would not kill you right here. I will not rob my wife of that pleasure.” The heroes look at each other and they all say, “Wife?” A tall woman walks out and she said, “I am Deathress. I am the wife of the Deathinator.” John said, “I didn't think the Deathinator would ever get married considering how ugly his face looks.” The Deathinator said, “True beauty comes from the inside and that is what I will be seeing after my wife takes care of you.” The Deathress takes out a duel bladed light-sword and John and Anthony take out their light-swords.

They begin to duel and Deathress swings her sword and she cuts the Leglas soldiers that are standing next to the heroes. John takes a swing at her upper blade and Anthony gets the lower blade. Anthony swings from the top and he hits the side of her neck and he sings it. She flinches back and she said, “Ouch! Just kidding!” Drex rapidly slashes his sword at her lower blade and he keeps doing this and Deathress stands there only holding her sword. She presses a button on it and Drex's sword becomes stuck to Deathress' sword. Drex said, “What the...” Deathress lifts up Drex and she throws him to the side of the wall where he smashes the wall and he leaves a large crack in the wall where he hit it. Anthony and John swing their swords at her and they stick to her sword. She lifts Anthony into the air. Anthony let go of his sword and he kicks Deathress in the face and he uses his mystical powers to remove her sword from her hand and it gets placed in Anthony's hand. Anthony swings the duel bladed weapons around and he cuts the lower parts of her legs off and she falls to the floor. Anthony deactivates her sword and he takes his sword back. Anthony holds his sword up to her face and he said, “What is your deal?” Deathress said, “You will have to kill me before you could know more.” Anthony said, “Consider yourself a prisoner of the Kingdom of Leglas. It is about time this nonsense war ends for good.” Drex gets up and he walks to the scene. Drex takes back his light-sword and he stabs it through the chest of Deathress and she falls to the floor dead.

John said, “Drex!” Anthony said, “What did you do that for? I could have got some information off of her.” Drex said, “We know these people. We question them and they lie to us and then they kill us when we are not looking. They don't deserve any slack from us.” John said, “All prisoners of Leglas are equally entitled to a fair trial.” Drex said, “Since when was Leglas fair about anything?” The Deathinator said, “He's right you know. Leglas is a very unfair country and it should be abolished. It is corrupt and filled with people making mistakes. The king you have is the worst king yet.” Drex said, “This is the only time I think the Deathinator actually said something that made sense.” John said, “Don't get any ideas from him. He is just manipulating you so you would take his side.” The Deathress melts into purple goo. Anthony said, “I guess you couldn't get a wife so you had to build one yourself.”

A Leglas gunship crashes into the window breaking it and it is the right size to land in the oversized office. Leglas soldiers jump off and they aim their guns at the Deathinator and the commander said, “It's over Deathinator. Give up. Just admit you've lost the war.” The Deathinator takes out his light-sword and he slashes one of the Leglas soldiers and the Leglas soldiers begin firing on him. The Deathinator takes a hit in his chest and he gets another hit in the right side of his body. Another soldier takes out a taser and he fires it at the Deathinator and it deactivates his robotic circuitry and he falls to the floor incapacitated. The commander said, "It looks like we've finally won." The soldiers pick up the Deathinator's body and they carry it to the ship and the heroes get on and they fly away.

As they fly away, they look down at the destruction in the sea and they see all the Deathinator's forces have either been destroyed or captured. Anthony said, "Is the war really over this time?" John said, "I think it is." Drex said, "I think this is another trick." Anthony said, "That's just you, Drex. You always look for an excuse to kill things. I think you like it." Drex said, "Killing bad guys is highly satisfying to me." Anthony said, "I'm glad I'm not you then."

Chapter 2

The ship lands in front of the king's castle and several soldiers and mystical warriors gather around the scene. John gets out and he sees Rob is with the mystical warriors. John said, "Rob, how's it going. I've not seen you in months." Rob said, "I was sent to an unknown territory where evil soldiers were lurking. It was quite a battle but I made it out alive. A lot of the mystical warriors that were with me were killed." John said, "I think far too many mystical warriors were killed in this war." The rest of the soldiers and mystical warriors leave the ship and the king enters the scene. The king said, "John Hirsch, Anthony Fredricksen, and my nephew, Drex Diffusion. I see you are all here, alive. I am glad for all of you." The king sees soldiers walking out of the ship with a stretcher and it contains the body of the Deathinator. The king said, "I see you caught the Deathinator too. That is good." John said, "I wish there was a way to redeem him from his evil self and return him to Jack Prime. Jack Prime was a decent man before." The king said, "Yes, I remember that."

In the foyer of the king's castle, gold statues are placed of John, Rob, and Anthony. Drex looks at the statues and he said, "Where am I?" The king said, "You still have not yet learned what it means to really be a mystical warrior. All you get is a segment on the stained glass above." The king points above." Drex said, "That's always been there." The king said, "Yes it has because you are a member of this royal family. That is your place in history." Drex said, "History sucks." Drex leaves the king while John, Anthony, and Rob drink ginger ale and eat croissants. Anthony said, "I almost feel bad for Drex. He was with us and he deserves recognition." John said, "He is a member of the royal family. He already has a place in history."

A mystical warrior enters the scene with John, Rob, and Anthony. He shakes hands with them and he said, "I am Master Guyruss." Anthony said, "The Master Guyruss?" Guyruss said, "Yes, it is me." Anthony said, "I've heard so much about you. I heard you destroyed an enemy battalion single-handed and you've established a strong Leglas presence in that territory in the new world." Guyruss said, "Yep, that was all me." Anthony said, "This truly is an honor." John said, "The war is over now. What do you think you will do?" Guyruss said, "I will wait for the next call for duty. I hear there are some Maloians that were against the surrender they did last year. I hear they started a whole cult of purists and they want us all dead. I will be ready when the king calls on me to come and destroy them.” John said, “Always thinking ahead as always.”

Drex leaves the castle and he walks out to the dark nighttime street and he kicks a soda can as he walks down the street. A cloaked figure sees him and he said, “Hey you. Get over here.” Drex walks to the cloaked figure and Drex said, “Who are you?” The figure said, “I will be your friend. You are Drex Diffusion, right? The king's nephew?” Drex said, “What's it to you?” The figure said, “I heard the Maloian king wanted to give you your own kingdom since you couldn't be the ruler of this one.” Drex said, “I remember that.” The cloaked figure said, “Today is your lucky day. I am starting a new kingdom and I want you to be the king of it. I have a transport at the dock. You can come with me now.” Drex stops and thinks for a moment and he looks at the castle. He sees the large gold statues of John, Rob, and Anthony and he sees there is not one for him. Drex said, “Okay, I will.” The cloaked figure said, “Perfect.” They leave the scene.

Drex and the figure go for a boat at the dock and it departs the dock and it travels through a portal to the new world. Drex said, “Where are we going exactly?” The cloaked figure takes his hood off and he reveals himself to be a bald man with a scar on the left side of his face. The man said, “I am Sir Grandorf. I was a Sir and a loyalist from Maloxia. I was strongly against my once beloved kingdom from falling apart like it did a year ago. The king is dead and he did not have a chance to have a child and his other heirs were killed during the course of the war. The kingdom is no more now after the king surrendered and died at the hands of the Deathinator. Leglas does not belong here. I have an army of troops at my command and I need more people to help me with my cause. I need a mystical warrior. You are a perfect addition to my team. I need you to be king. You have royal blood and you have a great fighting spirit. I could use a man like you on my side. You get to be king of your own kingdom.” Drex said, “This sounds like much.” Grandorf said, “It is much but trust me, it is worth it.” Drex gets flashbacks about John, Rob, and Anthony getting promoted to master and he is still at the bottom. Drex grips onto his iron pyrite medal and he crushes it in his hand. Drex said, “I'm in.” Grandorf said, “Good. It is time we put the first part of our plan into action.”

Chapter 3

John and Anthony patrol the streets of the city. Anthony said, “Will we ever get another job of being in a real war?” John said, “It may happen. Wars have been going on for centuries.” Anthony said, “What about what Guyruss said?” John said, “It is possible but it is not likely. Maloxia barely has an army and we have a strong presence on the territory that is now ours. It is not likely that there will be any further conflicts.” John and Anthony walk past the jewelry store and a man with a light-sword leaves the place holding onto bags of diamonds and gold. He runs down the street. The owner walks out and he said, “That mystical warrior. He came here with his light-sword and he said he would kill me with it if I did not follow his commands.” John said, “Wait right here. You know the drill, Anthony.” John and Anthony take out their light-swords and they dash down the street.

They run close to the man. Anthony uses his light-sword and he cuts the bag and all the gold and diamonds fall out of the bag. The thief said, "Err." He slashes his sword at Anthony and he blocks the attack. He hits harder and Anthony blocks the attack and Anthony holds his spot and the enemy's sword collides with his sword and Anthony said, "I can't take this for long." John uses his light-sword and he hits the back of the thief and he tries to jab John and John cuts the thief's left arm off and the thief falls to the ground in pain. John picks up the thief and he said, "What is the meaning of this?" The thief said, "My pay sucks. I risked my life hundreds of times during the war and I never got any special pay for that." John said, "You know the kingdom cannot afford to pay for everyone. We are becoming quite poor." The thief said, "I don't give a damn." John said, "There are better ways to solve this than to rob the jewelry store." The police show up and they arrest the thief. The police place handcuffs of John and Anthony too. Anthony said, "What's the meaning of this?" The cop said, "We have been receiving calls from all over the city that mystical warriors have been using their powers to break into other people's homes and businesses. The king has ordered that all mystical warriors are now under arrest. You will be brought to prison." Anthony said, "This is not fair. We didn't do anything wrong. We even helped you catch the thief." The cop said, "Save it for the judge that is if there even is a judge in this case." John said, "It is best that we do not fight with these people. We shall let them imprison us and we will settle our case when the time comes." John and Anthony are thrown in the back of a squad car and they are brought to prison.

John and Anthony are in jail and they look around at the other cells and they see Rob is in another one. Anthony said, "Rob, you were arrested too?" Rob said, "All of us mystical warriors were arrested." John and Anthony look around and they see the cells are full of mystical warriors. They see Guyruss is there too. John said, "They even arrested Guyruss." Guyruss said, "I got the call of duty. I was told to go to the king's castle for mission briefing. I went there and his guard arrested me and brought me here. They did not take away my light-sword but they don't work here. There is some kind of force-field over this place that deactivates light-swords and pretty much all other weapons." Anthony takes out his light-sword and he sees it does not turn on. He tries swinging it around and it does not damage anything. John said, "There is only one way out of here." Anthony said, "We still have our mystical powers." John said, "If worst comes to worst we will use those but for now we must wait until the time comes and we will reason with our judge."

They wait for hours and then a prosecutor enters the prison hall. He said, "The verdict has come in. The king has decided what all your fates will be. You will all be sent home to spend the rest of the night at home as you say goodbye to your loved ones. You will be placed in work camps where you will continuously work twenty hours a day and you will eventually be processed alive. You are free to go for now." The cell doors open and they all leave the jail.

John and Anthony walk down the street with the rest of the mystical warriors. Anthony said, "This is nonsense. We cannot just let them kill us off like this. We need to do something about this." Anthony reaches for his light-sword and he turns it on. Anthony said, "My light-sword works." John said, "It looks like they are not up for reasoning with." Anthony said, "We need to set up a resistance against these anti mystic people." John said, "I have an idea."

John, Anthony, Rob, Guyruss, and a large amount of mystic warriors gather around at John's house. John stands in the middle of the room and he said, "Alone, we are weak but together, we are strong and we can accomplish anything. We need to resist these people. As of right now, I am forming my own resistance force. We won't let these unjust troops push us around and have us be killed. We need to stand against them and show them we will not fall to them. I am one of the few people that survived the massacre at the school we opened in the new world four years ago. I lead a group of warriors to battle. Most of them died. The odds were against me then. I was not as well trained then. I will not make that same mistake this time. I have more men this time and they are highly trained. We will all camp out here over the night and in the morning when they come for us, we will fight them off. We can do this. A lot of us will get killed but we need to do this if we want peace." Rob said, "May I ask, you got along well with the king, right?" John said, "I did get along with the king, the other king. King Santiago is the king that saved my family from poverty when I was a kid. He is no longer with us. He mysteriously got sick and died four years ago. His son became king. We all remember that. I played detective and I came up with something, I think all of these unjust conditions were started by the king Leov himself." Guyruss said, "What makes you so sure of that?" John said, "I guess it is okay if I tell you this... Four years ago and shortly before king Santiago got sick and died, he gave me a secret mission. I was to go to the school and spot out a traitor that they had in the school. I carefully watched what was happening. I played detective with my friend Konstantine. When we found out who the traitor was, it was too late. The traitor was the professor and he turned Jack Prime into the Deathinator and he killed Konstantine as well as hundred of other mystical warriors in the worst massacre of this century. I saw Leov after I was given the assignment and he had a weird look on his face. A few days later, the king suddenly got sick and he died. I then remember getting some suicide mission that was sent to us by king Leov himself. I know king Leov gave the order for all of us to be jailed. This all makes sense now. Our real enemy was not the Maloians nor was it the Deathinator. Our real enemy was king Leov this entire time. I wish I figured this out sooner. I would have killed him if I had the chance." Anthony said, "You can't just kill someone if you think they're bad." John said, "Well, if I killed him then, a lot of people would still be alive right now and we would not be in this dangerous predicament. I already gave the best idea I could think of. They will be here in five hours. Be prepared."

Chapter 4

The next morning, the sun rises over the city and the king's troops march through the streets looking for mystical warriors. A troop lifts up a trash can and underneath it he sees a secret trap in the ground and a mystical warrior is living in it. The troop arms his cannon getting ready to fire and the mystical warrior takes out his light-sword and he cuts the cannon in half and the mystical warrior jumps out of the trap in the ground and more troops surround him. The warrior throws his light-sword and he makes it spiral around him and it cuts up troops standing near and they fall to the ground. The warrior tries to run away and he sees a troop in his way. The troop fires a gun at the warrior and he deflects it with his sword and the bullet bounces back and hits the troop causing him to fall to the ground. Another troop shows up and he blasts the ground next to where the warrior is standing and he goes flying and he lands on the other side of the street and troops surround him and they open fire on him and the shots hits the warrior and he falls to the ground.

The troops knock on the door to John's house. The one of the troops said, "We know you're in there, John Hirsch. Why don't you come out and surrender now so we won't have to kill you right here? You may get rewarded for it." The mystical warriors hide behind furniture in John's house and they have a tight grip on their light-swords. The troop said, "I guess you are not going to come out so we will go in and get you out, dead!" The troop kicks down the door and he is armed with a machine gun. He fires the machine gun and he destroys John's living room. More troops enter the room and they look around and one of them said, "There's no one in here." The troop that kicked the door down said, "Just listen... They can't hide forever." He lifts up the bottom of the couch and he looks underneath and he sees mystical warriors with their light-swords activated and drawn out. They slash the troop and they jump out from under the couch and they fight off the troops in the living room. One mystical warrior hits a troop with his sword and the troop crashes into a table and breaks it. Another mystical warrior gets shot and his body smashes through a window. John cuts the gun carried by a troop in half and John stabs the troop with his light-sword. Anthony hits a troop with his light-sword and he jabs another one and the troop falls into the TV and smashes it and gets electrocuted.

The mystical warriors fight off most of the troops and there are a few dead mystical warriors lying on the floor of John's living room. The front wall of the house breaks down and troops in giant robot mechs walk in and they begin to rapidly launch missiles out of their hands at the mystical warriors. Half of the mystical warriors in the room get vaporized and the remaining mystical warriors stand still and they shake in fear. John deactivates his sword and he said, "We cannot win this one." Anthony deactivates his sword. One of the mystical warriors said, "No way! We are not going to let them take us down like this!" He runs for the troops in the mechs and he jabs his light-sword into the chest of one of them and he cuts down the chest and he cuts the legs off it and it falls to the ground and explodes. He runs for the other one and he sees there's an army of mechs outside. He said, "Oh sh..." They launch a volley of missiles at the mystical warrior in John's house.

John, Anthony, Rob, Guyruss, and all the other remaining mystical warriors deactivate their swords and they place them on the ground and they put their hands up. Rob said, "We have no chance of winning." John said, "We didn't know that they had mechs on them." The mystical warriors are handcuffed and they are brought outside where more of the mystical warriors are being handcuffed and brought into the center of the city where they are being placed on transports. Anthony and John walk next to each other in the line of handcuffed mystical warriors. Anthony said, "So much for your insurrection. Do you have any other ideas?" John said, "I can't think of anything right now. Maybe Guyruss has an idea." Anthony and John look at Guyruss and Guyruss said, "I have an idea. I know how... I shouldn't speak of it now."

They arrive right in the heart of the city in front of the king's castle. King Leov steps out and he said, "My dear citizens, the mystical warriors have served us in the last war and that is all they should serve us for. It is time that they leave us alone. They no longer have a purpose. They are powerful. They can kill us all." Citizens in a crowd in the streets watching this have angry looks on their faces and they yell and boo at the king. The mystical warriors board the transport ships and they head for the portal.

Chapter 5

The transport ships head into the portal and they arrive at a gray mountainous region which is a colony of Leglas. The prisoners look out the window at the colony and Guyruss said, "Just what I thought." Anthony said, "What we're you thinking?" Guyruss looks around and he sees there are no troops close by to hear him. Guyruss said, "This is the place that Leglas has a strong holdout in. I fought on these very battlegrounds. I know this place better than I know myself. I may be able to hack the security systems." John said, "That assumes they did not change the passwords." Guyruss said, "I know how to change the passwords. I helped build this place. This place was supposed to be a prison where they send war criminals to."

They land at the dock and they leave their ship and they are brought into a line. They peak around and they see the line leads to a hut where white fire flies off. They hear screams coming from it. John turns to Guyruss and John said, "Now is the time to put your plan into effect." Guyruss said, "It is an honor, sir." Guyruss closes his eyes and he concentrates deeply and his body disappears and his handcuffs fall to the ground. Anthony said, "What just happened?" John said, "I didn't think we were capable of using a power that could make us disappear like that. John, Anthony, and Rob look off into the distance and they see Guyruss is standing there and his arms are free of the handcuffs. Guyruss enters a hut and he sees a computer terminal. A troop is there and Guyruss punches out the troop and Guyruss takes control of the computer. He waves his hand around the computer and he enters in codes. The computer screen reads, "Handcuffs, deactivated. Light-swords will be returned to their rightful owners." Guyruss said, "I know I could do it."

Everyone's handcuffs get deactivated and they use their mystical powers to fight the troops. Anthony jumps in the air and he throws a ball of energy (generated by their mystical powers) at one of the troops and he falls on the ground. Anthony throws another energy ball and he knocks down more troops. John walks around the perimeter of the camp and he tries to spot out any escape points. Guyruss sees John and Guyruss reaches in a box he is carrying and he pulls out John's light-sword and he throws it to John and John catches it in his right hand and he activates it. Guyruss said, "I've managed to recover all of the stolen light-swords and I will return them to their owners. I bet the king's men and most mystical warriors did not know about the disappearing trick." John said, "You win on that one." Guyruss said, "It looks like we have the advantage here."

Robot mechs land right behind John and in front of Guyruss. John uses his light-sword and he jabs it into the chest of the robot mech and Guyruss pulls out his light-sword and he cuts the legs of the mech off and it falls to the ground and explodes. More mechs enter the scene. They land and they use rapid fire missiles to destroy all of the mystical warriors in the fray. John reaches through the box and he pulls out Anthony and Rob's light-swords and he throws them to Anthony and Rob. They catch their swords and they activate them and they fight off the mechs. The mechs destroy most of the huts. Anthony uses his mystical powers to bounce back a volley of missiles at one of the mechs and he manages to destroy it. Anthony said, "I'm glad I invested a lot of time training for this. I guess all that training is finally paying off." The mechs surround the camp completely and there are even fewer mystical warriors left. They look in the sky and they see a Maloian attack ship flies over the fray and it fires blue particle beams at the mechs and they destroy them. The ship comes in for a landing. Anthony looks at the ship and then he looks at John and Rob and he said, "Are we saved?"

The side door on the ship opens and Maloian troops exit and Drex exits. John said, "Drex, I was concerned about you. I didn't see you when the madness broke out in the city. I thought you may have been killed or worse." Drex said, "I'm done with you and all your other petty pitiful mystical warriors. I am my own new breed of mystical warrior. I have teamed up with these disgruntled Maloians that want their kingdom back from Leglas. We will destroy Leglas and we will bring back the good Maloxia that we all deserve." John, Anthony, and Rob look at each other and they form a close circle and they discuss the plan. John said, "I think Drex turned to the dark side." Anthony said, "What if Drex is right and Leglas has gone bad? It looks like that has happened. Maybe if we join him, we can have reinforcements which will give us a better chance in our fight against Leglas." John stops and thinks. Rob said, "I think I'm with Anthony on this one. We all have the same rank. We are all masters. We should take a vote on this one." John said, "I guess the two of you could be right. We don't have much other choice." They leave the circle and John said, "We are going with them! They are all we got!" All the mystical warriors pile into the ship and the ship takes off and leaves the scene.

Chapter 6

They are on the ship and John, Anthony, Rob, and Guyruss, take seats in a dining lounge and they are given drinks. Anthony said, "Where do you think we're going?" John said, "I don't know." Rob said, "What if this is just a plan to turn us in?" John said, "We will be ready for anything. We have Guyruss on our side and he seems to know about powers that we didn't know existed." Anthony said, "How did you do that disappear thing, Guyruss?" Guyruss said, "It requires intense concentration and a complete clearing of the mind and the ability to isolate the mind and soul from the world around it. If you try, you could perfect this tactic." Anthony closes his eyes and he tries to clear his mind and he tries to lift his soul out of his body. He tries hard and his friends are starring at him. They begin to see a blue figure try to leave Anthony's body. The figure barely leaves and it falls back into Anthony's body and his eyes open. Guyruss said, "You almost had it there. If you practiced like that every day, you could get it for sure." Rob said, "What was that blue figure that tried to fly off Anthony?" Guyruss said, "That was Anthony's soul. His soul was trying to escape his body. If he ever masters this power, he could learn to manipulate it so his soul will leave his body at the exact moment it dies and then he could live forever. Very few mystical warriors are capable of doing this. I am one of them and I thought I was the only one capable of this for the longest time. I see that Anthony also happens to be one of them." John said, "How does it feel to have such a rare power?" Anthony said, "I could live forever and see things beyond my lifetime that I was not intended to see."

Drex enters the room and he said, "We are en route to Corpus Island. It is an abandoned island in the south sea in the new world. It was once a prison island used by the Maloians and it was invaded by Leglas and now it is abandoned and we have set up base there. We will be there in six hours." John said, "May I ask how you got to be the commander of this army.” John points to a plaque on the wall and it says that Drex is the commander of the Maloian army. Drex said, “It all begins back when I was at your side...”

The ship lands at Corpus Island and they enter the ancient prison building. Rob said, “This place just looks like a bunch of ruins.” Drex said, “That is exactly what they are, ruins. We will train here and practice our powers. I am your new master now and I will command all the attacks in this war. As of right now, a new war has begun and it is between the kingdom of Leglas and us, all that remains of what peace and order should be.”

Guyruss is stands in front of dummy soldiers and he takes out his light-sword and he slashes through the soldiers and he jabs one in the gut and he cuts another one in the face and slashes one in the stomach and he holds his sword backhand in the air. Drex walks in and he said, “You did a good job but...” Drex walks to Guyruss and he moves Guyruss' light-sword grip down a little bit. Drex said, “It is better that you hold your sword lower so it will be easier to defend yourself from incoming attacks from above or below. I think you've mostly perfected light-sword attacks and I think it is now time you try practicing your mystical powers. Rumor is, you have a special gift that very few of us have. I would like to learn this power myself.” Guyruss said, “I don't think you are powerful enough for my gift.” Drex said, “I wouldn't be too sure about that.”

John and Anthony stand at a pavilion and they look at the purple night sky. Anthony said, “Do you really think it is a good idea to let Drex dominate us like this?” John said, “I know Drex has not been the brightest in the past but I think this may be his chance to prove himself worthy to us. Many mystical warriors have been killed in the last few days for unjust reasons.” Anthony said, “I never told you about what Drex said when we were in the prison together while you were going through anguish.” John said, “We never talk about that day in general really.” Anthony said, “Well you should know that Drex did say something very disturbing. He said if he had the opportunity to, he would kill you and he would kill the king so he can rule over us. He was very serious down in that dungeon. His actions suggest that he may have an evil mind.” John said, “Everyone has an evil side. No one is fully good. We all have dark intentions sometimes but it does not mean we are bad people. I mean that was a year ago and we have worked side by side with Drex and he never tried to kill any of us.” Anthony said, “That's what scares me. This may be his turning point.”

The kingdom of Leglas has dark streets that are only lit with dark red lights that are carried by evil robot mechs that patrol the streets looking for mystical warriors. People walk down the streets in fear and they run into their houses and they board up the doors. The king sits in his office and he has a window that gives him a view of the entire city. The king watches all these mechs patrol the streets. A man in a suit with a tie and silver armor enters the king's office. The king turns his chair around and he said, “Ah, Mr. Partimer. How's it going? What is the current status of the remaining mystical warriors?” Mr. Partimer said, “The mystical warriors were stronger than we thought and they overthrew our prison and they escaped on a Maloian gunship. We believe that the mystical warriors have formed a revolutionary force against us and we believe they are being assisted by the Maloian people. They are probably former soldiers that fought against Leglas in the last war. We know that John Hirsch, Anthony, Fredricksen, Rob Alpine and Guyruss are with them and we also have reason to believe that your nephew, Drex is commanding this insurrection. The king sits back in his seat. He said, “I have the ultimate plan. I think this is going to be one of my most entertaining plans yet.”

Anthony walks down a dark hallway in the ancient prison and he turns on his light-sword to light the way. He looks at the floor and he sees skeletons of dead prisoners. Anthony looks at the walls and he sees ancient texts. Anthony takes out his hand-held computer and he scans the wall. The computer screen said, "Text dates to a thousand years ago. It talks about an ancient prophecy of a warrior from an evil kingdom that joins a good kingdom and defeats the evil kingdom. It also says that the warrior is a member of the royal family from the evil kingdom and when he defeats the evil kingdom, he becomes king of the good kingdom and the fate of the good kingdom is unknown." Anthony looks at the text on his computer carefully and Anthony said, "This very well sounds like the story of Drex and his relationship with the two kingdoms. I need to show this to John."

Anthony walks down one of the stone hallways and he sees Leglas soldiers in special new white armor aim their weapons at him. Anthony takes out his light sword and he slashes them down and a door opens and more run in. Anthony keeps fighting them and he dashes through them and he runs down a door into a different hallway. He enters the foyer of the place and he sees John, Rob, Guyruss and more mystical warriors with their light-swords out in defense. They are surrounded by the white soldiers. Anthony quietly sneaks behind the perimeter of the foyer and he creeps up to a white soldier and he slashes the soldier down and he rolls back into the darkness. Anthony rolls out of the darkness and he slashes down another white soldier. One of the mystical warriors goes and slashes down more of the soldiers. Then, Drex enters the foyer and king Leov is at his side. Everyone stops and they look at the king with Drex.

Drex said, "This revolutionary force is over. I have made a deal with the king of Leglas that will serve us all." Leov said, "That's right my nephew. This is over. All you mystical warriors are under arrest and you will all face certain death in my castle at my hands. Enough of this running all over the place." Drex said, "I agreed that I would bring all of you to justice. So let it be." White soldiers enter the foyer and they place electric handcuffs on all the mystical warriors. Rob said, "Not again." John said, "We are lucky to have made it this far. We are still alive right now and we would not be if it weren't for this fighting." Rob said, "I take that as being reassuring."

The mystical warriors are placed in a flying transport and it is on a course for Leglas. Anthony sits next to John and they are tied up in chains. Anthony said, "I saw something written on the walls in one of the hallways. It looks like Drex is supposed to be our savior or something." Rob said, "I highly doubt Drex is our savior. I always guessed that Drex would be the one that would kill us all." John said, "We are not dead yet. There is a chance that we could overtake the evil king and Drex and still be alive." Rob said, "I wish that were so."

Chapter 7

The transport lands in the center of the Leglas city in front of the king's castle. The mystical warriors are pulled into the foyer of the king's castle. Civilians gather round in seats and they watch the carnage that is going to be performed in front of them. The king gets to the podium and he said, "Welcome citizens of Leglas." The citizens in the seat boo at the king. Some of them throw tomatoes and spirit glasses at the king. The king said, "Yes, yes, the carnage will begin soon. This is an important moment in history. We are going to see all the mystical warriors, the greatest enemies the kingdom has had since the war ended..." Rob said, "The war only ended two weeks ago." The king said, "We have the greatest executor with us here right now. Give a round of applause to the, Deathinator!" The Deathinator enters the foyer and citizens in the seat boo at the Deathinator and they throw tomatoes and spirit glasses at the Deathinator.

The Deathinator draws his sword and he aims it at John. The Deathinator stops and he hears John's voice in his mind. He hears, "Jack. I know you are still in there. You are a brave warrior. I know you are strong enough to defeat the real evil in the room." The Deathinator moves his sword into the air and he hears John's voice again said, "Jack, we are friends." The Deathinator gets flashbacks of him with John and the conspiracy about the evil professor. He also sees the professor ordering his men to torture him and do horrible things to him. He also has visions of the king being linked to this." The Deathinator sheds a tear and he wipes it off. He swings his sword and he breaks the electric handcuffs on the mystical warriors. He runs to the support beams of the platform that has the podium the king is standing at. The Deathinator swings at them and he cuts them and he breaks them. The platform falls to the ground and the king falls off it and he rolls on the ground. The Deathinator walks towards the king and the king quickly jumps away and he runs for the door out of the foyer but it is locked. The Deathinator walks to the king with his sword drawn out. The Deathinator is about to strike the king down and his sword is blocked by a red light-sword and Drex has the sword. The Deathinator begins dueling with Drex.

Leglas soldiers enter the foyer and the mystical warriors draw out their light-swords and they fight off the evil soldiers. Guyruss slashes down an evil soldier and then he slashes down another soldier. The mystical warriors gather around each other and they look around the foyer and they realize that they are surrounded. Then the citizens leave their seats and they use guns they have on them and they begin helping the mystical warriors fight off the evil soldiers. King Leov looks at the disaster around him and he said, "Good god how is this happening to me? How could I lose. Even the people I thought I trusted are going against me."

The Deathinator duels with Drex and Drex tries to stab the Deathinator and all his attempts at stabbing him are blocked by the Deathinator. The Deathinator and Drex lock their swords together and they hold it there for several seconds. Drex punches the left side of the Deathinator and Drex slashes the front of the Deathinator's body and the Deathinator falls to the floor in pain. Anthony spots Drex and Anthony walks up to Drex. Anthony said, "Are you going to kill a hopeless man you just defeated?" Drex said, "So this is it. I foresaw this. I knew we would fight one day. That is what has been set up." Anthony said, "I'm afraid that time has come." Anthony and Drex clash their swords together and they duel with them. Anthony tightly grips his sword in his right hand and Drex tightly grips his sword in his left hand. Anthony and Drex run into each other and their swords hit each other, and they jump back.

The evil soldiers bring a proton cannon into the foyer and they blast at the walls and they destroy the walls. A piece of debris falls from the ceiling and John runs and dodges the falling debris. The soldiers keep firing the proton cannon and they destroy more walls and they destroy some of the king's precious artifacts. The king sees this and he yells, "You'll destroy my castle!" A proton blast flies the king's way and the king ducks and misses the blast and it hits a support beam for the castle. The castle begins to drastically fall apart. One of the king's guards goes to the king's side and he said, "King sir, this castle is falling apart and it is not safe to be in here. We must evacuate." The king said, "It is about time you tell me this." The king leaves the room with the guard.

Chapter 8

The foyer no longer looks like how it did when the scene began. It now looks like ruins. Drex and Anthony keep fighting and they dodge the debris at the same time. Drex said, "I was always better than you!" Anthony said, "In your dreams." They slash swords again. Anthony said, "I always knew you would betray the prophecy." Drex said, "You read the prophecy wrong. I would know because I wrote it." Anthony stops and he said, "You wrote it?" Drex said, "Of course I did. I knew that prophecies are always right and they are written by significant people like me. I knew that if I wrote a prophecy, it would come true and I would be the ultimate ruler against the evil people like you, Anthony." Anthony said, "That's it!" Anthony takes another jab against Drex and a piece of the ceiling falls and hits Drex on the head. Drex spins out of control and Anthony cuts Drex's left hand off and Drex screams in pain. Anthony slashes the middle body of Drex with his light-sword and Drex flies backwards and he falls on the floor and debris from the ceiling falls and it forms a barricade around Drex. Anthony navigates through the maze and he trips on debris and more debris falls and he gets stuck under more rocks. John, Rob, and Guyruss are with other mystical warriors and they are at the front gate of the king's castle and Rob feels Anthony's pain. Rob runs back in the castle.

Rob dodges the falling debris and he finds Anthony and he picks him up and he sees the Deathinator lying in pain too. Rob picks up the Deathinator and he leaves the foyer with them. He runs outside and he sees Guyruss on a flying transport ship and he enters the transport carrying Anthony and the Deathinator. John is already on the transport and there are other surviving mystical warriors with them. They fly away and they watch the king's castle crumble into a large pile of debris. Rob said, "Where are we going?" Guyruss said, "We are going to my grandmother's place. She lives on an obscure island on the opposite side of this planet. I think we can live there in peace since there does not seem to be any other places."

The ship flies through a slipstream and it ends up at a ranch where a few houses are set up. The ship lands in the large open field. The heroes enter the main house and they walk around the small living room. Guyruss' grandmother enters the room and she said, "Ah, Guyruss, I was worried sick about you. I thought you may have been killed. Well that is good and I see you brought your friends over. I'll go and make all you some soup." Guyruss said, "I will show you a place where we will be safe at." The heroes go to the basement of the house where there are machines and computers. There is a long table and John places the Deathinator on the table. John looks over the Deathinator and he said, "I may be able to do it. I am using my powers and I can focus on the machinery in Jack. I know I can save Jack. Hand me some of those supplies over there." John gets to work and Anthony, Rob, Guyruss and other remaining mystical warriors watch.

At the remains of the castle, the king walks back and forth in front of the remains. The king said, "This is an outrage! How am I going to kill these rebels that oppose our great kingdom when I don't have a castle and when my troops are idiots and they keep getting beaten by the warriors?" The king's guard said, "Well sir, you still have large legions of troops positioned at various points at our colonies and throughout the city. We do have the turrets set up and the city limits." The king said, "That's not good enough. We need more. Even my nephew was defeated. Say, where is Drex anyways?" Medical people leave the remains and Drex is on a stretcher and the king looks at the beat up Drex. The king said, "He even lost his left hand. Well, that is not too bad I guess." The guard said, "I think Drex is left-handed." The king said, "That's nonsense. No one is left-handed. Send more of my men to our colonies and keep exploring undiscovered land. That is where they are most likely hiding."

Evil soldiers patrol the streets of the colonies and they drive robot mechs and they aim their guns at random people and they scan them with the computers in the mechs to see if they are mystical warriors. The troops break into people's homes and they tear them apart looking for mystical warriors. The mayor of one of the cities is in his office and evil troops barge in and an official from Leglas enters and he said, "By order of King Leov of Leglas, you are relieved of command from the city. I am now in charged of things." The mayor leaves his seat and the Leglas official gets in the seat. Citizens in their homes turn on their TV's and all that is on them is propaganda promoting the kingdom of Leglas and saying that the mystical warriors are the scum of the kingdom.

Back in the basement, John is at the table and he throws away piles of scrap metal and he reveals, Jack Prime. Jack opens his eyes and he looks around the room. Jack said, "Where am I? What is this place? What became of our professor?" John said, "I will explain all of that in a moment." The mystical warriors are hanging out outside of the ranch and John introduces Jack to the mystical warriors. John said, "You are very out of focus and out of shape but I will train you to be in better shape. My former students, Anthony and Rob could help teach you too. You were right all those years ago. The kingdom of Leglas is corrupt and the king Leov is the mastermind behind all this. He has been the mastermind behind this plot right from the beginning. You have earned my trust, Jack. I want you to be my friend again and help me fight in this revolution." Everyone crowds around John. John said, "As of right now, we have started a revolution force. A real one this time. I will be the leader of it since I am the most experienced. We will do research and we will find out where the Leglas strongholds are. We will raid them. We will weaken the strength of Leglas until their king admits defeat to us. We cannot do this by ourselves. We need to tell the citizens. We need to get them to take our side in this war."

Drex sits in a hospital and he looks at the place his left hand used to be. A medical robot enters the room and it begins to work on that spot. It leaves and Drex has a black hand with red lines on it. Drex makes a fist and he holds his fist in the air. Drex punches a hole in the wall with the new hand. Drex gets visions of him using this hand to fight, John, Anthony, and Rob. Drex leaves his room and he leaves the hospital and he is out on the ruined streets. He walks to the docks and he sees Maloian troops there. One of them said, "Our master is here." Drex said, "You know what I want. Just take us back to our new stronghold." The troop said, "Yes, master." They board a transport and they leave Leglas.
